CONVENTION TALK

Madison has been chosen the scene of the greatest political struggle that Wisconsin has ever seen. It was done through the connivings and at the dictation of the powers to be that dominate the republican policies at the present time. The unfitness and in congruity of the whole affair is in keeping with the high handed way state affairs have been run ever since the doctrine of LaFolletteism has been forced down the maws of the voters of the state. Madison with its little hotels and poor accommodations is chosen for the holding of a big convention when even Milwaukee would find its hotel accommodations taxed by the 1,065 delegates and the ten hundred more enthusiasts who will attend. Madison in all has eleven hotels. Eleven hotels with a total number of rooms for sleeping of 662. The other thousand must sit up or sleep where they can. Roughly estimated there will be some five thousand people present the day of the convention and Madison cannot begin to take them all. Yet Madison is chosen for the convention because the governor so willed it.

For Policy's Sake
General opinion would say that the Governor's campaign fund is running low and that by having the convention in Madison where he lives, he can save money. Then Madison is a notably enthusiastic LaFollette town. If the governor can be believed, and this will add to his prestige among the rural delegates.

Opinion throughout the state is that the move was a shrewd one, by the LaFollette aggregation to benefit his chances. While sentiment is against the location, still the LaFollette faction has taken care of the rooms for their delegations and when the tip went out some days ago that it had been decreed that Madison was to be the convention city the LaFollette men engaged all the best rooms for themselves. Being the dominant power and having the inside source of information they were able to do this and will profit, by their leaders' tip and have rooms at least.

Hotel List
A list of the Madison hotels and their rooming capacity is as follows:

No. of rooms.	Hotel.
180	Park Hotel.
72	Avenue Hotel.
40	Hotel Ogden.
80	Madison House.
120	Capitol House.
65	Hotel Van Etta.
20	Universal Hotel.
20	Central House.
35	Fox House.
40	Elvor House.
40	Simon House.
742	Total.
120	Ladies' hall at university, (which maybe used if needed)
862	Grand total.

Mistakes Elsewhere
Aside from the colossal blunder made yesterday, as Captain Claiborne, one of the true blues from Eau Claire calls it, it is interesting to note that the executive machine failed to carry the first assembly district of Racine county at last night's caucuses, receiving less than ten delegates out of the entire number chosen. It was a downfall that was sad and disheartening to the Governor and his friends who had devoted much time and work trying to instill into the minds of Racineites that they should select delegates that would approve of the Governor and his doings.

All For Cooper Strong
Racine county will send a solid delegation to Janesville on the 27th to root, fight and vote for Congressman Cooper's re-election. This was another downfall for the hopes of the governmental party. They lost the satisfaction of even annoying the congressman.

Labor as hard as they could they could not succeed in finding any man who would come out in opposition to the plucky little congressman who has fought through thick and thin for his Wisconsin constituents.

Nomination Secured
With Rock county, a certainty, LaFayette rounded into line. Racine county, solid. Walworth, with no element of doubt, existing; Kenosha packed for him, and Green only to be heard from it looks today as though the work of the executive machine in the first congressional district had gone for naught. From all appearances at present the republican ticket the voters of Rock county will meet his fall might be headed Spooner, Whitehead and Cooper.

Milwaukee Conventions
Even in Milwaukee the supporters of the Governor received a set back by the nomination of William H. Stafford as candidate for congress from the fifth congressional district over Mr. Frame, Mr. Esterbrook and Mr. Rogers. They had labored hard with this district to try and make it an example for the rest of the state to follow and failed. They had used every method known to politicians to swing it into line with success and Mr. Stafford, a non-committal republican, who leans towards the Stalwart and conservative side of the political fence, went in with a rush.

Otjen To Go Back
Theobald Otjen, congressman from the fourth district was also renominated with ease making another blow to the powers to be and although he had made no fight against him knowing full well that he was the choice of the people. On the whole the last few days have dampened the ardor of the LaFollette sympathizers and they now see that despite the protestation of the Governor that there is no opposition to him in the state much has arisen and that more active plans for a campaign must at once be laid.

Janesville Opinion
The opinion of leading republicans in Janesville as to the situation and the choosing of Madison as the convention city is as follows:

Senator J. M. Whitehead—"As I am one of the candidates I feel that it would be in poor taste for me to discuss the question."

Hon. W. G. Wheeler—"It is poor policy and a poor move on account of the lack of hotel accommodations in Madison, if for no other reason."

Assemblyman C. L. Valentine—"Of course the convention should be held in Milwaukee where it can be taken care of. Still if it be true that the exposition building could not be secured in July I am satisfied to have the convention meet in Madison or anywhere. The place will have no effect on the result and I think it best to have this family quarrel settled as early as possible."

St. C. Burnham—"If the holding of the convention has any effect it will work against LaFollette. This is only another of his blunders and the stalwarts will be benefited by it. The move will only make the other forces more active and more effective."

George King—"I believe that the holding of the convention in Madison will be the best thing that could happen for Mr. Whitehead. A great handle is being made throughout the state that Mr. Whitehead cannot carry his own city or county and when we take our large delegation up there in its strength for him it will show the state just where Mr. Whitehead stands in Rock county."

W. H. Greenman—"If the move is detrimental to the stalwart cause I am opposed to it."

WOULD MAKE STRINGENT LAWS REGARDING ALL LEGISLATION

Chicago Man's Plan To Keep Out That Class Known as Undesirable, by Law Enactment--Would Donate $1,000 To Promote Plan.

To the Editor of the Gazette:

Chicago, May 20.—At the present time, the National Government debates Chinese and Africans from immigrating to this country. Previous to the year 1861, there had been some legislation by a few of the States, proscribing races, but since that time these statutes have become obsolete. During all the years that the Government has existed, no effort has ever been made, on the part of any County, or City, to prevent the influx of undesirable races within its borders, by the enactment of a national law.

In the interest of better government an experimental plan might be put into operation, by a national statute, defining a certain portion of the country, where restrictions might be allowed. Say all the states that approach the Canadian border, with the exception of that part of the State of New York that lies south of a line drawn due east from the city of Oswego to the Vermont boundary, and including Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota, Wyoming, Colorado, Utah, Nevada, and Oregon.

In this statute the National Government should give such counties the privilege of determining whether or not, increase their population by immigration of any more people whom they may designate as undesirable races, either from other states, or from foreign countries. If five per cent. of all the voters, of any one of these counties petition the supervisors, stating in said petition what particular races they wish to exclude the supervisors shall cause a ticket to be prepared and voted upon at the next election, and if a majority vote in the affirmative, then no further additions, except by births, shall be permitted.

If any person belonging to such proscribed race, voluntarily leaves such county, for the term of six months, and not being the owner of any real estate in said county, he or she shall be debarred from returning.

All persons belonging to those proscribed races who may be residents at the time this new law might take effect, should be registered and a certificate given that would protect them, and their future progeny. Such a law would work no hardship to anyone; nor take away any essential rights now possessed.

The National Government has for the past hundred years, protected these counties against the incursions of foreign armies—Canadians; with about the same effort it could allow them to protect themselves against the further influx of undesirable races. If the people of the States bordering the Canadian line desire such a law, there should be no obstacle that could not be obliterated to obtain it.

Were such laws enacted, these counties could still further improve the quality by giving a bonus to families of the proscribed races now residing within their borders, to move further on; railroad tickets and a small amount of money would in many cases prove effective.

This paying a bonus to move on is no new idea; thousands of dollars are spent every year in the purchase of tickets, by the overseers of the poor, in the different counties of the state of New York, and doubtless in many other states, to induce people, who might eventually become permanent paupers, to move beyond the county line. Such a law would give the residents of these counties an incentive to improve the quality of its inhabitants, that they have never possessed.

In 1865 Congress should have said to the colored people then residing in the South, "Remain where you are and we will do the best we can to protect you and your lives and in the pursuit of happiness. The North had at that time few negroes and it would have been a very easy matter to prevent the mixing of the two races in the North. Instead of this Congress and the Administration gave the colored people carte blanche, to go where they pleased; advised them to go north, and that in doing so, they would have the full protection of the National Government; so during the past thirty-five years, more than 30,000 of them have taken up their abode in the City of Chicago, and more are coming; long before another thirty-five years shall have passed, Chicago will contain more than a million of that race. It is now too late to stay this tide of immigration from the South, but a National and State law might be enacted that would permit the city authorities to define the boundaries of their race; either as owners or leasees of real estate; of course that boundary would necessarily be a part or the whole of the South division; if the limits were set to include all of the South side, North of 51st Street and east of Halsted it would not be many years before the overflow would demand, and they would get the rest of the division; this plan would keep the North and West divisions free from their encroachments.

There are many places in the South where the white race have established negro boundaries, and that too without the aid or consent of congress. The residents of Cohoes, New York, a city possessing a population of more than 25,000, have been able to the present time, by the force of public opinion, to prevent the leasing or sale of real estate to negroes.

In many cases where races have been mixed, the white race with its improved methods of transportation, is the cause of it, but the British Government does not permit its black subjects from Africa, or its brown men from India, to settle in the British Isles, by the thousand, or millions, and it is safe to say that had the heads of the British Government been in control of our national affairs in 1865, no such exodus of colored people, from the South to the North would have been permitted.

Not long ago I visited acquaintances in the city of Milwaukee; the first thing that attracted my attention was the absence of colored people. I mentioned this to a friend. With his face wreathed in smiles, he replied, "No, this is a white man's town." I answered, "do not flatter yourself with the idea that it will remain so. If no effort is made to prevent their coming, by the enactment of a National or State law, there will be 30,000 or 50,000 here within the next twenty years; the overflow from Chicago can reach this city for less than $1.00 for transportation, and it will surely come."

If the people residing in the Canadian border states make no effort to prevent these conditions, they will have themselves to blame, and the result will be a few years hence, as bad as it is today, in the states to the south of them; a continuous quarrel for all of the future years.

For the sake of the argument let the white race admit, that the colored race is in every respect equal to the white, but in all of the states where the mixing of the two races has been excessive, happiness of the white race has diminished, and race conflicts are frequent. The white race in their Canadian border states first.

The most serious legislation that has been enacted in this country, in the past hundred years, is that which gives the franchise to illiterate colored men. At the time this took effect about the year 1875, there was a splendid opportunity to have enacted an educated franchise law, for both whites and blacks. The youths of all colors not yet twenty-one years of age, should have proved the ability to read and write, before becoming voters. The blacks over twenty one, similar proof. Soon as all the illiterate white voters should have passed away, educated suffrage would be complete, registration of all voters could then have been made, in their own hand writing before election, upon the left hand page of the registry book, and upon the right hand page when voting. This opportunity to make an educated suffrage, was thrown away, possibly for a hundred years. Bad politics was to blame. It was terribly cruel, both to the North and the South.

The civil rights laws that have been enacted, to place all customers upon the same footing, are of doubtful utility. They have thousands of instances stimulated undesirable people, to demand accommodations that they did not need, for the sole purpose of trying to obtain damages, for being denied the rights given them under those laws. The business men, other than common carriers, who are affected by those laws, should not have been made impertinence, on the part of the law-makers, to thus interfere with private business. Financial considerations in these trades, as well as in any other, are sufficient incentives to the owners, to do what they consider for the best interests of all concerned, without being trammelled with these unnecessary laws. It would injure no one to repeal them.

Population Statistics of census of June, 1900:

State of Illinois, total.	4,321,550
Negroes.	35,078, 1 in 5,538
City of Chicago, total.	1,698,575
Negroes.	30,150, 1 in 56 1-3
State of Wisconsin, total.	2,069,042
Negroes.	2,542, 1 in 814
City of Milwaukee.	235,315
Negroes.	862, 1 in 331

One of my objects in writing this article, is to call the attention of the general public, and the law-makers to the possibility of restricting undesirable immigration into the Canadian border States. The National Government should permit a small strin of this great country, to forever remain free from an encroachment of inferior or mixed races.

People who have spent all their lives in the midst of such races, could whenever they desire, go and live in the favored strip. Even if they remain where they are it would afford them great consolation to know that they could go home at some future time.

The Australian Confederation started its existence, by making a law proscribing races. Hereafter no more immigration of undesirable races into that island, will be permitted.

In a few score years, Australia will be able to hold out inducements to the best class of immigrants, superior to any other country.

The Canadian Confederation might well copy the Australian law. The present disposition is to fill up its vacant lands, with the most undesirable races, including Chinese, Africans, and from Mediterranean sea countries.

Should an organized effort, with money behind it, be made by residents of the Canadian border states, to bring about this scheme, I stand ready to subscribe $1,000 in cash to fund, toward obtaining the end in view.

MOTORMAN HURT

Frank Huberlin, Managing the Car, Probably Fatally Injured—Spine Paralyzed.

HE IS LIABLE TO DIE

Frank Huberlin, motorman on the Main street electric car was seriously and probably fatally injured this morning in a collision between his car and the steam street roller. He is lying in a critical condition at his boarding house 106 South Main street, dazed, helpless and partially paralyzed from a severe concussion of the spine. The exact extent of his injuries cannot as yet be determined, but they certainly are serious enough to make his chances for recovery very slight. Besides the concussion of the spine it is feared that there are internal injuries which may manifest themselves later.

The main street car was badly wrecked by its collision with the roller. Three panels and the supporting posts on the front corner of the car were smashed in and while no estimate has been placed on the damage it will be a considerable sum. The roller was not damaged.

CAMPS AROUSE MR. BACON'S IRE

Reconcentration of Filipinos Is Criticised in the Senate Chamber.

SMALLPOX CASES' NUMEROUS

Clouds of Vampires Circle Around the Places for Growsome Feast Sure to Come Each Day—Hoar Says Army Officers Dislike to Testify.

Washington, May 21.—Senator Bacon of Georgia, speaking in opposition to the Philippines bill, attacked the policy of reconcentration, likening it to the policy of Gen. Weyler in Cuba. Mr. Bacon read a letter from an army officer whom he knew personally and for whose veracity he vouched, describing one of the reconcentration camps. The letter said the camp was located in a swamp where rain fell continually and outside of which every living thing was shot. The officer said there were thirty cases of smallpox in the camp and an average of five cases were added each day. Clouds of vampire bats circled continually over the place awaiting the growsome feast, certain to be afforded them each day. The officer said the camp was "like some suburb of hell."

Mr. Foraker and Mr. Clapp warmly defended the policy of the government, saying the concentration camps were necessary to protect friendly Filipinos from assassination at the hands of roving bands of insurgents. Descriptions of the camps were read, showing them to be sanitary and in reality points of instruction.

Senator Hoar spoke briefly in line with Mr. Bacon, criticizing the camps and pointing out the alleged difficulty in getting army officers to testify to real conditions. Mr. Hoar added that he did not question the veracity of the American officers, but they flinched from criticizing the policy of the government, fearing such a course would injure their chances for promotion.

ARMY BILL IN DEADLOCK.

House and Senate Clash in Regard to Measure.

Washington, May 21.—The house and senate have locked horns, and there promises to be a battle royal. The challenge was issued by the house, and quickly accepted by the senate. The army appropriation bill was passed by the house carrying an appropriation of $3,000,000 for the improvement of army posts. As it came back from the senate the item was so amended as to increase the appropriation to $4,350,000. After the house had disagreed to the senate amendments and appointed conferees, Mr. Cannon insisted upon the adoption of instructions to the conferees prohibiting them from agreeing to an amendment which would permit any part of this appropriation to be used in the construction of permanent quarters at established military posts. The storm center quickly changed to the senate and grew to cyclonic proportions. Senator Spooner insisted upon the reading of the Cannon resolution of instructions. As soon as it was completed half a dozen senators jumped to their feet to denounce it. Enough was said in the senate to show that the issue will be fought to a finish, and the prospects are that before it is over the house leaders will have caused to respect the control of the senate in legislative matters.

Chaplain Milburn Injured.

Washington, May 21.—Blind chaplain Milburn of the senate was struck by a runaway horse attached to a buggy as he was leaving the capitol today just after offering the prayer at the opening of the session. The large toe of one foot was cut off and several of the other toes badly injured. The accident would have been far more serious but for Mr. Milburn's daughter, who pulled him from a position immediately in front of the runaway horse as he was about to dash upon her father.

Rejects Hoar's Canal Bill.

Washington, May 21.—The senate committee on isthmian canals has decided to report adversely Senator Hoar's bill placing the matter of the selection of an interoceanic canal route in the hands of the president. The measure was especially opposed by the supporters of the Nicaragua route.

Lord Pauncefoot Improves.

Washington, May 21.—Lord Pauncefoot's condition is improving at a rate that is very encouraging to his many friends. It is now thought that, with favorable weather, the British ambassador will rally at least for a time, although his age is against any permanent improvement.

Sends Dog to President.

Gas and Oil at Danville.

Danville, O., May 21.—Danville is in the midst of a great gas and oil excitement. Two gas wells were sunk by A. A. Gentry which have a capacity of one million feet per day. Another drilled last week and abandoned because it was a dry hole has since been found to contain four hundred feet of oil.

HALF MILLION FIRE AT LONDON

Creates Panic Among Women Employees, But None Is Injured.

London, May 21.—Fire broke out in the Walsbach Incandescent electric works at Westminster and did damage amounting to $500,000. One thousand persons, mostly women, are employed at the works, and all were at their posts when the alarm was given. A small-sized panic ensued, but as far as can be ascertained, nobody was injured. Traffic on the underground railway was blocked for some time.

Jerusalem, May 21.—A serious riot between Greeks and Armenians took place at the Church of the Resurrection. The disturbance was started by a Greek trespassing on the Armenian sanctuary. Many persons were injured.

FRATERTVILLE HAS 184 DEAD

No Hope That Any of Those In Mine May Be Alive.

Knoxville, Tenn., May 21.—A search of the Fraterville mine at Coal Creek confirmed the belief that not a man of the force working in the shaft at the time of the explosion escaped. The latest information places the number of dead at 184. Only eighty-two bodies have been recovered, but the stench in the mine and other conditions encountered by the relief parties leave no hope that any of the workers is yet alive. Ernest McDonald was taken out alive, but with both eyes blown out, both hips broken and both arms twisted. He will die. As he was alone and far from the other workers his escape gives no promise that others survive.

POST CHECK CURRENCY
The following are a few of the many endorsements for the Post Check Currency system. There is practically no opposition to the bill now pending before congress. Every theoretical objection has been intelligently met and answered by Mr. Post, the author of the bill, and there is every reason why the measure should become a law at the present session of congress. It adds to the revenue of the Postal Department and will prove of the greatest convenience to the general public. A personal letter to Congressmen will be helpful.

News, Galveston, Tex.
The Post Check Currency proposition is attracting wide attention and is universally endorsed by those who have given it their attention. This form of currency will be a great convenience to farmers, stockmen, and others who haven't daily access to banks, express and post offices. Daily Journal, Biddeford, Maine.

The plan of the Post Check currency, the currency itself is practicable, and cannot be adopted by the national government any too soon to suit the convenience of the public in general and the people of the rural communities in particular. Courier, Buffalo, N. Y.

The post plan is simple—the striking thing about it is the idea and the wonder seems that it was not thought of before. It has been widely commented upon by the press of the country, and in scores of notices we have yet to see an adverse criticism. Certainly nothing unfavorable to its successful operation comes to the mind when examining the details of the proposition. Measures for the adoption of the scheme for general use are now pending in Congress, with excellent prospects for their passage. Forest and Stream.

It goes without saying that such a system of Post Check currency would be of immense value, and there appears to be no good reason why Congress should not make provision for putting the system into immediate operation. When the public fully understand the character of the system and appreciate its great advantage and relief the popular demand for the Post Check will be universal.

LIFE INSURANCE.
The "Insurance Press" of New York has just issued a very interesting little table of statistics showing the amount of life insurance money paid out in losses in 1900 of the principal cities of the United States during the year of 1901. The aggregate in round numbers is $217,000,000. New York city leads with $20,000,000. The state of Wisconsin received something over $4,000,000, of which Janesville's share was $46,000.

This vast sum is augmented by $80,000,000 more paid out on matured endowments, so that the companies practically distributed $1,000,000 per day for every working day of the year. The bulk of this money went into the homes of the poor people, and families, in moderate circumstances. While life insurance is in no sense a work of philanthropy, the benefits derived, comes as a choice blessing to many homes every year. The man who fails to provide for his own home, is worse than an infidel, and it is gratifying to know from the report referred to, that a vast army of intelligent men are not subject to this class of infidelity.

The figures furnished by the Insurance Press is not an advertisement, as no company is mentioned, but it is the strongest argument in favor of life insurance, as a principle that was ever published.

There are thousands of men who insure their own lives, but the risk is more hazardous than any other class of property. A dwelling seldom burns, and the average business block last for a lifetime without loss of fire, but a life is snuffed out without warning and all too frequently before provision has been made for the home.

Every man owes it to himself as well as to those dependent on him, to provide for these grave emergencies.

in excess of those for the same period in 1900, and $3,104,866, or 4 per cent in excess of those of the corresponding months of last year.

A comparison of our exports to Canada in the first nine months of the present fiscal year with those of the corresponding months immediately preceding the reduction in the Canadian tariff in favor of Great Britain, shows that our exports to Canada meantime have increased about 75 per cent, being for the earlier period $46,752,958, and for the nine months ending with March 1902, $80,999,004.

The figures are furnished by the Bureau of Statistics of Washington, and they make a gratifying showing. The reduction of the tariff on a basis of friendly trade relations, is a strong argument in favor of reciprocity.

LA FAYETTE COUNTY
If there is any county in the state where LaFollettism has thrived like a Green Bay tree, it is LaFayette county. The claim has been made that Judge Orton and James Monahan were the only men in the county, who were opposed to the Gov. and his methods. They were so, hopelessly in the minority, that it was a question whether they would be permitted to live in the county after the State Convention.

During the past month, however, and especially since the Lancaster convention, the atmosphere has been more or less disturbed and the Governor's forces have come to realize that possibly Orton and Monahan might not be so lonesome as they seemed.

The first test of strength in the county came last Saturday evening, when caucuses were held to elect delegates for the Congressional Convention. The LaFollette men made a desperate effort to capture the convention, as they are doing in Rock and every other county in the state. When the returns were all in, it was found that the Governor's forces were defeated by a dozen votes. This result is significant and places La Fayette county in the conservative republican column, and makes it safe for Spooner and Whitehead.

The new republic of Cuba, with half a million of cash in her treasury, is now a full fledged reality. President Palma took possession yesterday, under most favorable auspices. The island will enjoy an atmosphere of freedom, that will be a revelation. If capable of self government, development will be rapid.

There was no uncertainty about the sentiment of La Fayette county, as expressed in the caucuses held last Saturday evening. The republicans of that county, realize that any support of the governor's measures, means a stab at Senator Spooner. The party throughout the state have come to know that LaFollette and Spooner are not a possibility.

The Milwaukee News is still harping for an extra session of the legislature. The state has not yet recovered from the regular session and there is no demand for an extra.

The response for aid for Martinique sufferers, was so prompt, that in less than a week, word is sent out that no more supplies are needed. The United States never does anything by halves, when it comes to a question of generosity.

Minnesota has had enough of the primary law, after a brief trial, Wisconsin came to her senses in time to save the state from a farce that lacks the merits of common sense.

The Cuban flag now floats over the new republic, made possible by the Stars and Stripes, which it replaces.

When the Milwaukee Journal hears from LaFayette county, it will be time for another spasm.

PRESS COMMENT.
Fond du Lac Commonwealth: The result of the republican caucuses in LaFayette county are calculated to encourage the stalwart movement. Thus far the caucuses held in the state point to a strong sentiment in favor of republicanism of the simple pure variety. The mixture is not popular.

Wisconsin and Milwaukee have never been known to be at all backward in their gifts, when people were in need, and Martinique and St. Vincent will not be the first to find how generous they can be.—Milwaukee Journal.

Mr. Bryan will now retire to his sanctum in his $5,000 barn, and while looking at his $500 cow, will compose a hot paragraph or two showing that Hill is an old and hardened traitor to Jeffersonian Democracy and the Kansas City platform.—Cleveland "Leader."

Baraboo News: Instead of the theory of "Primary Elections" the LaFollette faction of this county has inaugurated the system of secret conventions upon confidential calls. The analogy is somewhat striking.

La Crosse Republican and Leader: And now the radical country press is finding fault because the fifteen or twenty thousand dollars spent for the cheap John hand book, was not distributed among the country radicals.

The people do not want any Democratic times yet. They are getting good wages and plenty to do under Republican policies and they like it first rate.—Marquette Eagle.

Oskosh Northwestern: Colonel Bryan is assiduously cultivating a fresh crop of silver Democrats and promises to have them ready to harvest for the next presidential campaign.

Why not let Mr. Bryan alone? Shurring at a man who is dead politically as he is smacks of kicking a corpse.—Shawano Journal.

Will the fight in the Republican party in Wisconsin stop after the state convention? That is a subject worth thinking about.—Eau Claire Telegram.

The Oskosh postoffice fight bids fair to become a national issue.—Green Bay Gazette.

Teddy Thrashed Him.
Teddy Roosevelt is not a brilliant pupil, but he studies hard. In arithmetic and some other branches he is most proficient. Like his father, he wears glasses. That the boy has that same dislike for being imposed upon, which is characteristic of his father, was proven by an incident which occurred during Mr. Roosevelt's term of office as Governor of New York. On his way to school in Albany, one day, Teddy was accosted by a boy somewhat larger than himself, who sang out, "Hey Goggles, how's your pa?"

Young Roosevelt crossed the street in a hurry. "If you are talking to me," he replied, "you may as well know that I am as good as you, goggles or no goggles."

The larger boy had no other alternative than to fight, and the fierce, but brief encounter ended in a very decisive victory for young Teddy. When the victor arrived at home, with his clothing sadly torn and soiled, his father's only comment was, "Well, I'm glad you thrashed him."

The Need of Advertising.
An advertising solicitor, in calling upon the merchants of the city, frequently asks the results of advertising. Very often he is met with the reply, "Oh, we don't need to advertise, everybody knows us." A greater mistake was never made. Because a house is old established, is a very poor reason for not advertising, and because a good connection was worked up, with the help of advertising is the warrant for keeping it up, but certainly not for dropping it. We have conversed with intelligent business men well up in their particular line, who, in discussing the matter of advertising, were ever ready to admit that the other fellow needs to advertise. "He came here a stranger a few years ago and he had to advertise, but I've lived here all my life, everybody knows me, and everybody knows my father." It is just such reasoning that puts one out of patience. There he sits like a bump on a log taking whatever trade comes from the "old reliable" that used to deal with his father when he was the only merchant in those parts. As time moves on, these "old reliable" gradually drop off, their places are taken by their sons, and daughters or by strangers. The latter are unacquainted with the merchants under discussion.—Shoe and Leather Journal.

Osteopathy is Not.
Faith cure, Christian science, hypnotism, spiritualism, massage, nor Swedish movement. A lady recently asked an Osteopath how long he usually stayed in a trance before he was able to diagnose a case. Others expect a mysterious laying on of hands with the utterance of some magic formula, when presto! the pains of years will disappear as by the touch of a fairy's wand. To all such we beg to say that no honest Osteopath, ever resorts to such methods. There are systems of healing which may need these appearances to conceal their true character, not so Osteopathy.

The Osteopath, who is nature's engineer, goes directly to the human machine and if possible, discovers the cause of the trouble. This does not mean that we do not take into consideration symptoms of disease, but we do not rely wholly upon them in diagnosing a case, nor do we treat symptoms; we go a step farther, endeavoring to find their cause and remove that.

Still others ask if they must exercise faith in order to be cured. Emphatically no. Faith plays no part in Osteopathy. If it did, the record of its cures would be perceptibly diminished. A large percentage of Osteopathic patients begin the treatment with absolutely no faith in it, but having exhausted everything else, came to it as a last resort. With this class of chronic invalids Osteopathy has made its record, in the majority of cases when the nervous system is so degenerated that there is little left for it to work upon.

MAY ESTABLISH
WAREHOUSE HERE

Agent for American Tobacco Company After Option on Cotton Mill Building.

N. P. Strauss, agent for the American Tobacco Company, was down from Madison yesterday and looked over the upper cotton mill building with a view of securing it for a warehouse for the company.

He met some of the directors of the Jamesville Cotton company and asked for a thirty day option on the mill at the company's price of $15,000.

He did not secure the option yesterday, but one will be given him so that he can have time to inform the company fully as to the condition and advantages of the building.

It would seem that the building would be an ideal one for a large warehouse and shipping facilities are unsurpassed, the Northwestern and St. Paul roads both having sidetracks along the river street side of the building.

Large Store Room
On account of the size of the structure there would be storage room for an immense amount of tobacco and there is plenty of room to enlarge the building if it should be necessary to handle the company's business.

Tried Once Before
There was a movement on foot a year ago on the part of the American Tobacco company to build a warehouse in this city but for some reason it fell through and the warehouse was located at Sparta where it has proven to be an immense industry.

The people of this city are alive to the importance of getting the company to locate a warehouse here and it is hoped that the company will secure the building.

WILL VISIT THE WEST

To Attend A. O. U. W. Convention in Portland.

James M. Thayer, the well-known leaf tobacco dealer, and a prominent worker in the A. O. U. W. order, is about to start on a long trip through the west, accompanied by his wife. Mr. Thayer goes as a representative of the state lodge at the annual meeting of the Supreme lodge which is to be held in Portland, Ore., this coming month.

Mr. and Mrs. Thayer will start from Chicago about the 4th of June with between 300 and 400 others on their western trip. They will travel on a special train composed of parlor, dining, sleeping and observation cars.

From Chicago they will travel on the Northwestern line to Denver, thence over the Union Pacific, to Portland returning over the Northern Pacific.

The train will stop at Colorado Springs, Denver, Salt Lake City, San Francisco. They will visit the delta of the Columbia river, the Willamette valley, the salmon canneries at Astoria, Seattle, Spokane Falls and two weeks in Yellowstone park.

ANNUAL LAND SALE

One Hundred and Thirty-One Parcels Sold at Auction
The annual tax sale of lands in Rock county was held on Tuesday afternoon at the office of the county treasurer in the court house.

County Treasurer Miles Rice conducted the sale and was assisted by County Clerk Starr. The sale consisted of 131 descriptions scattered all over the county which is a small list. The amount received by the county from the sale was about $1,230.

The bidding was quite spirited and considerable feeling was shown by some of the bidders towards their opponents. The bidding was often run down to a small portion of the property and in one case one two-hundredth of the property was sold to cover the taxes.

The principal bidders at the sale were W. H. H. Macdonald, George Sutherland, S. S. Northrop, M. O. Mount, E. D. McGowan, Nicholas Walsh, J. B. Dow and A. E. Matheson. Some of the bidders attended the sale and purchased the certificates on speculation while others were there to protect the interests of their clients.

W. H. H. Macdonald was the largest individual purchaser of certificates and secured about 40. S. S. Northrop of Clinton and A. E. Matheson of this city were also large purchasers.

SAYS HE STOLE WHILE DRUNK

Herbert Billings Pleads Guilty to Burglary, But Promises to Reform, and Gets a Chance.

In the municipal court this morning, Herbert Billings pleaded guilty to the charge of entering McKelgie & Worthington's saloon early in the morning of May 14th and stealing $2.50 in money, a pint of whiskey and twenty cigars.

Says He Was Drunk
He made a plea to the court stating that at the time that the offense was committed he was under the influence of liquor and begged that he be sentenced with the lighter of offense, as under the information he could be charged with either burglary or larceny.

Is Given A Chance
He promised Judge Fife that he would stop drinking, go to work and support his family if given the lighter punishment. Under the existing conditions the judge decided to suspend sentence for two months and give Billings a chance to reform rather than send him to state prison. It will now depend upon Billings whether at the expiration of the time he is punished for larceny or burglary.

Other Cases
The case of the state of Wisconsin vs. Vernon Fraumfeld, for doing malicious injury to property was adjourned until May 25.

STORMS INJURE RAILROADS.
Delays Trains on Northwestern and Causes Heavy Losses.

The heavy rains and hard storms that have prevailed throughout the state during the last week, have caused great trouble for both the Northwestern and St. Paul roads.

The Northwestern has been more seriously damaged than the St. Paul, and a number of their through trains from the north, have had to be run in a roundabout way to get through here to Chicago. The train for Chicago due here at 10 o'clock, is indefinitely delayed by a bad washout near Milnora.

The St. Paul has had considerable trouble with the Prairie du Chien division on account of bad washouts. The train from Prairie du Chien to Milwaukee, was so much behind this morning, that the train from Mineral Point, due here at 10:25, was run through to Milwaukee and left here at 10:40.

It is reported that at a number of places on the Mineral Point Division, that the fields along the railroad are flooded and in many places the water is almost level with the tracks.

HEROIC WORK OF

Nurses: Michael Bradley During Small Pox Illness—Is Released from Quarantine.

Michael Bradley, who has been dangerously ill with smallpox at the city detention hospital, has so far recovered from the disease that he no longer requires the attendance of his physician, Dr. Q. O. Sutherland. Mr. Bradley will be released from quarantine next Saturday. Dr. Fred Sutherland was released from his duties as nurse last Sunday, the period when there was no danger of his contracting the disease, having expired. He leaves tomorrow for Milwaukee for a few days' visit.

Heroic Work

Dr. Fred's experiences the past three weeks have been rather a heroic introduction into the duties and dangers of professional life for a young man. In his father's absence he was called to attend Mr. Bradley. When it was discovered that the disease was smallpox and Mr. Bradley became so wildly delirious that he jumped from a second story window in his effort to escape from the hospital an earnest attempt to secure a nurse was made and proved unsuccessful. Then the young physician realizing that either he or his father must care for the patient, stepped quickly to the rescue and volunteered to act as nurse.

A Skillful Nurse

During all of Mr. Bradley's delirium and the crisis in his illness when it was thought that he would not recover, Dr. Sutherland stood bravely by his self-appointed duty. The task was one which required no small amount of heroism and self-sacrifice for a young man and Dr. Sutherland deserves much credit for his bravery. During the time that he was under quarantine every precaution was taken by his father to prevent his catching the disease and a host of friends will be pleased to know that the danger is considered over.

STORIES OF GREAT NATIONAL SONGS

The second and revised edition of this popular book is just out, and is in great demand. It is highly endorsed by General Miles, General King, General MacArthur and other high military authorities, who not only recommend it for military post libraries, but in common with prominent educators, have commended it as a valuable work for public and school libraries as a lesson in patriotism. The book is from the pen of Col. Nicholas Smith, formerly of the Gazette, and will be read with special interest by his many friends in Jamesville.

CANCEROUS ULCERS

develop sometimes from very trifling causes, and when and where you would least expect them. A boil, or abscess, burn, blister, wart, tumor, mole, or the simplest little pimple may be the beginning point of a malignant, frightful looking Cancerous Ulcer.

Apparently there is no difference between a Cancerous and Common Ulcer when they first make their appearance, and for this reason every ulcer, no matter how insignificant or harmless it may seem, and all slow healing sores should excite suspicion and cause alarm, particularly if any of your ancestors ever had Cancer, or you have good reason to think your blood is impure; for the sore, after all, is only the outgrowth, the external evidence of polluted blood, and nothing can check its progress until the cancer tainted, vitiated blood has been purified. All efforts to heal the ulcer by means of salves or other external remedies will result in failure, for such treatment can have no possible effect upon the deadly germs and morbid matter that form in the blood and are carried through the circulation to the sore.

MOTHER, TWO AUNTS, AND ONLY A SMALL SORE CAME ON THE WOULD SCAB OVER, BUT NOT HEAL.

INSIDE OF HIS LIP.

Mr. Jno. Massie, Owensboro, Ky., writes: "About three years ago a blister came on the right side of my nose. It grew steadily in spite of all efforts to heal it up; the pain was not very severe at first, but increased when the sore began to inflame and discharge matter. At times the place would scab over and appear to be getting well, but the scab would drop off, leaving a red, angry looking ulcer. I had almost despaired of ever curing the Cancer when my attention was called to S. S. S., and after taking a few bottles the Cancer began to gradually grow smaller, the discharge stopped, and I was relieved of the terrible disease."

Mr. Jno. Massie, Owensboro, Ky., writes: "About three years ago a blister came on the right side of my nose. It grew steadily in spite of all efforts to heal it up; the pain was not very severe at first, but increased when the sore began to inflame and discharge matter. At times the place would scab over and appear to be getting well, but the scab would drop off, leaving a red, angry looking ulcer. I had almost despaired of ever curing the Cancer when my attention was called to S. S. S., and after taking a few bottles the Cancer began to gradually grow smaller, the discharge stopped, and I was relieved of the terrible disease."

said recently, "I buy all my boy's clothes now with what I save on my own." He used to have all his clothes made to order, but now he has learned that a certain make of ready-to-wear garments will give him all that he can ask for in style and durability. He always looks for this label:

and when he finds it, he knows he is safe, and buys. If you are not familiar with this make of clothes, come in and we will take pleasure in demonstrating their superiority over any other make of ready-to-wear garments, and show you how you can dress in the most modest or extreme style at small cost.
